Last Night's Meeting.

The action of the meeting held last night at the courthouse does not modify in the slightest degree the views of THE CONSTITUTION concerning the East Point whippings. We confess surprise that such resolutions should have been adopted, but we are more confident than ever that the sentiment of the good people of Atlanta is with THE CONSTITUTION in the position we have taken in this matter.

As to the meeting last night, it will be readily understood that the Young Men's Democratic league is not responsible for the resolutions adopted. A carefully organized and well selected crowd, drummed up with the view of forcing just resolutions as were adopted, took possession of the meeting called by President Hill, of the league, for the explicit purpose of endorsing the East Point whippings. It is not necessary for us to attempt to demonstrate the fact that public sentiment in Atlanta is overwhelmingly against the perpetrators of the East Point outrages, and the effort to make it appear that THE CONSTITUTION has done any injustice to the league, or anybody else, in this matter, is supremely insignificant that this step is taken to avert the very blow that public opinion is directing against those implicated in the miserable affair.

We reaffirm, with emphasis, every word that we have said on the subject, and shall continue to insist that the matter be thoroughly sifted, and that the guilty shall be punished.

Our report of the East Point whipping was not "inflammatory" further than facts will inflame, and as they have inflamed public opinion to condemn those who so cruelly called out from beneath their roofs, in the dead hour of the night, innocent men, to be brutally strappled, the outrage is not the less a crime because those thus treated were negroes.

As to the "failure of THE CONSTITUTION to publish the facts in relation to the whipping of a sick white lady by two stalwart negro men," we have only to say that this is the first we have heard of such a report, and this further attempt to divert public sentiment is too apparent to need reply.

As to Pledger's incendiary card, we have spoken in emphatic terms; as to the recent Central wreck, the connection with the question at issue is too remote to discuss, and as to the other matters referred to in the resolutions of the committee, we let THE CONSTITUTION's record speak for itself.

We stand on that record—and above all on the race question—and no such action as that of last night's meeting will turn us from our course.

And lastly, Mr. Grady will take care of himself when he returns to the city—probably this morning.

The Atlanta.

We find the following paragraph in the letter of a Washington correspondent:
 "One of the signs welcomed at the navy department as token of the interest taken by the people in their new navy is that contained in a letter received this morning by Secretary Tracy from Representative Libbach of New Jersey. He writes that the board of trade of Newark wishes to give a bell to the new cruiser Newark when she is ready for service, and asks as to the kind and size desired."

This reminds us that this enterprising, vigorous and spirited town has never made any acknowledgment of the compliment paid it by the navy department in naming one of its finest cruisers Atlanta.

During the recent cyclone on the Atlantic coast, while other vessels were seeking shelter, the Atlanta stood off from shore and weathered the storm. When the cyclone had passed away the Atlanta steamed into port with not a rope out of place. This shows that the cruiser is not only commanded by men who know how to manage her, but that she is one of the most seaworthy vessels afloat.

It may be too late for Atlanta to contribute a bell for its floating namesake, but some acknowledgment ought to be made. In other words, it would be proper to send on a fall bouquet, or something of that kind.

Good Men Gone Wrong.

The pessimists cannot be blamed for saying that the country is going to the devil. In New England, the ministers are flocking to the support of the Nationalist party, which is a communistic organization. And now in conservative Philadelphia we find several reputable ministers switching off on the wrong track. At a recent meeting of Baptist divines a preacher read a socialistic essay, which was favorably received. The Inquirer says:

Rev. Dr. Conwell's remarks attracted unusual attention on account of their pronounced socialistic tendency. He declared that all persons were born equal in this world and entitled to equal blessings. In his opinion all have equal rights upon earth and the rich should have their possessions with the poor.

"If I come into the world possessed of wealth," said the divine, "or if I inherit from my father a million dollars and another child comes into the world, not accountable for the accident of birth and possessed of nothing, is this justice? No, it is not. The Gospel of Christ bids me divide as far as I am able with those who have nothing. All the property in the world should be so administered that every human being should have his equal share."

Now when our spiritual leaders, educated ministers of the gospel, talk in this way, what can we expect? Such views will run like wildfire through the masses, and ignorant and desperate men will try to carry these visionary theories into practice.

The preachers who are advocating socialistic ism and communism should be scourged back to their pulpits. It was bad enough to have a lot of political persons vexing the country, but these saints who advocate robbery and the division of other people's property among the idlers of the land should be suppressed.

Above and Beyond Us.

Young John A. Logan, in a recent conversation, spoke of the abuse heaped upon his father by Murat Halstead, and said: "I trust to God he may receive his just reward before leaving this world."

Now, this is in the nature of an appeal to the Almighty to curse Editor Halstead during his mundane existence. Young Mr. Logan naturally feels aggrieved, but he is wrong in expressing such a hope. Politically Editor Halstead is a furious and bitter partisan, but outside of politics, many of his opponents cheerfully testify that he is kind-hearted and gentlemanly. As the St. Louis Republic puts it, "he is a machine played upon by every impulse of the crowd—the involuntary moult-piece of his associates."

Aside from this view, no right-minded man will ask his God to inflict a curse upon any human being, or any living thing. We have nothing to do with judgment and punishment in their highest and most awful forms. When passion moves us to implore such visitations upon our fellows our state of mind is such as to place us in greater danger than the object of our hatred.

Editor Halstead will doubtless before he dies make full reparation to the Logans. A few words will set everything right. But it should be recalled that it is not a one-sided case. If the editor wrote bitterly of his foe, the general, on the other hand, was able to hold his own, and reply in a way that made the other wince. Perhaps the two old enemies are about even. At any rate, young Mr. Logan is engaged in a very silly business when he calls out the names of his father's antagonists and points them out as targets for the divine wrath. Such matters will be settled in the duly appointed way.

Cotton Mills in the South.

Ten years ago Mr. Edward Atkinson, who is a man of ideas, said in a speech at the cotton exposition, that while the south had a marvelous future before it, it could never hope to compete with New England in the manufacture of cotton, especially the finer grades.

In Mr. Atkinson's view there was something the matter with the climate, and something the matter with the labor. In short, New England had the call and the grip, so far as the manufacture of the finer grades of goods was concerned. A great many New Englanders and some southern men agreed with Mr. Atkinson, but THE CONSTITUTION undertook to show the gentleman that the climate here is more favorable in all respects for manufacturing cotton than that of New England, that the expert labor would be on hand when there was a demand for it, and that proximity to the cotton fields was an element of profit.

Meanwhile, the revolution that THE CONSTITUTION predicted has been steadily going on. Since Mr. Atkinson spoke the cotton mills in the south have increased from 161 to 355, and there are today more than two million spindles whirling in the south. They are spinning the coarser grades of goods, it is true, but the movement is taking a larger shape. New England experts, who have studied the situation, go even farther than THE CONSTITUTION did in 1881.

Mr. C. P. Makepeace, of Rhode Island, who is an expert cotton manufacturer, says that it is a mistake to say that the southern mills can produce nothing but coarse fabrics. Some of them are already spinning the finer yarns at a profit, and he thinks that the south will find the finer class of goods the most profitable to manufacture.

Mr. Makepeace says also that the prices paid per square foot of floor space for four New England mills, situated in Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island were 70, 80, 81 and 84 respectively; while the prices for seven southern mills, situated in the Carolinas, Georgia and Louisiana, were 52, 56, 47, 50, 58, 51 and 56 respectively. These mills, it is assumed, were selected at random for the purpose of such a comparison, and afford a fair indication of the relative cost of mill property in the two sections. Truly, the south is a great section!

The cool wave will have no sort of effect on Ohio politics. The wonder is that, in view of the campaign in that state, there can be any such thing as a cool wave in this country.

TANNERISM is as big as the republican party.

THERE can be no doubt that Tanner was endeavoring to carry out the spirit of the republican platform as well as the advice given him by the president.

ALL talk about an inter-national scheme for the remonetization of silver is idle. Free coinage in the United States will settle the question.

PEOPLE are wondering why so long a time is required to find twelve unintelligent men in Chicago. The Mail proposes that the Cronin jury be made up of twelve cigars store signs.

ALL the republicans agree that Tanner was removed for what he said, and not for what he did.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THE BALTIMORE CORONER is very mad over a recent disappointment. A man who had been reported as killed in a railway accident was carried to the stationhouse and laid out stark and stiff to await an inquest. When the coroner arrived the body was missing. The official complained of the irregularity of the thing, when a negro spoke up and said: "Boss, de corpse got up just now and skipped. He said he had no time to fool around here waiting for you." It was a fact. The supposed dead man had come to life.

THE EX-CONFEDERATES ARE to have an annual meeting in a monthly magazine called "The Confederate Veteran," and will be published in Atlanta by the Confederate Veteran Publishing company. The price of the periodical will be $2 a year. Its managers propose to illustrate it and make it in all respects an attractive publication. The magazine will advocate the principles of the lost cause, and will be devoted to sketches, reminiscences and bits of confederate history. The first number will appear in November. Such a monthly will doubtless be very popular, and its subscription list will probably swell rapidly.

THE RICHMOND STATE says: Mr. Thomas Nelson Page, the popular Virginia author, who is now in Europe, recently inspected in Paris the mode of Mr. Merce's equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee. Mr. Page writes: "It is the French equestrian, which is as different to ours as possible, and lacks the repose and quietude which make a good Virginia rider, and his horse appears part of one whole. Some men may be had of the difference from the fact that the French equestrian has recently employed Buffalo Bill to give riding lessons. The statue is immense. The horse is as large as the famous Trojan steed which used to cause such trouble in our Virgil days. A tall man can stand under it." He thinks it will be a fine statue, but believes that either Valentine or Ezekiel, our own sculptors, could and would have made it finer." As Mr. Page has often seen General Lee riding through the streets of Lexington and over the country roads of Rockbridge county on "Old Traveller," the general's famous war horse, he is competent to judge of what an equestrian statue of General Lee should be. The general was a superb horseman, and mounted on his gray steed, formed a striking picture of a great military chieftain.

NAPOLEON IVES was right in objecting to handouts. He is no desperado. He cannot escape. Why should he be handcuffed?

COLONEL PRENTISS INGRAHAM has written 300 d m novels. They contained about 6,000,000 words. A writer on a daily newspaper like THE CONSTITUTION will, in the course of twenty years, write about 12,000,000 words, and make twice as much as Colonel Ingraham made out of his novels.

FAVORS A NEW PARTY.

Joseph Chamberlain Agrees With Lord Hartington.

LONDON, September 18.—Speaking at a political meeting at Huddersfield last evening, Joseph Chamberlain predicted that the alliance between liberal unionists and conservatives would continue to hold together as long as the separation of England and Ireland was killed. He thought at the time the alliance was formed that it meant his sacrificing for a long time many cherished political objects, but he had found that he had not been called upon to make any sacrifices. "The government was carrying much liberal legislation through parliament," he said, "and I have been able to work together and to trust each other. He agreed with the suggestion of Lord Hartington that a new national party ought to be formed, pledged to effect internal reforms in Great Britain and to work together to secure the maintenance of unity and the strengthening of the empire. Gladstonians, he said, are breaking up. Their center of gravity is now in the north and they have lost all its energy. Sections of the Gladstonian party are adopting political heresies and favor resistance to law and socialism. If a new party was formed it would be a party of the future, removed from the fossil torpor of the past. He was confident that many Gladstonians would be glad to adhere to such a new party, which would constitute a strong parliamentary power.

ANOTHER HIT.

The Dockmen Make a Demand Which is

LONDON, September 18.—Three thousand men assembled outside of Victoria dock this forenoon and demanded the dismissal of the men taken on today between the dock and the river. The directors of the company refused to grant the demand. The men at work are guarded by policemen.

The directors of the dock companies have sent a protest to Cardinal Manning and the lord mayor pointing to cases of violence on the part of the strikers since the agreement for a settlement of the strike was arrived at, and stating that a number of persons were refused to submit to the terms of the agreement. They ask the cardinal and lord mayor to use their influence in the interest of peace. A conference was held today between the cardinal, the lord mayor and directors of the dock companies relative to the attitude of the strikers. Cardinal Manning promised that he would exert the strikers to observe their agreement not to molest the "blacklegs." The lord mayor said he would issue a proclamation against riotous demonstrations by the strikers.

FLOODS IN JAPAN.

Twenty Thousand Lives Lost—A Huge Landslide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., September 18.—Japanese papers received by the steamship Gaelic today place the total number of persons drowned in the recent Japanese floods at 20,000. The worst of the disasters was in the districts of Minami-Muro, Higashi-Muro, Nishi-Muro and Hidaki at 10,000, and the number of persons rescued at 20,000. The river Kinokuni swelled from 13 to 15 feet above its normal level, and embankments at the village of Iwahashi were washed away. Immediately following the flood, a huge landslide occurred, covering by the raging waters. On the morning of August 19th an enormous mass of earth fell from a mountain near the village of Tenokuchi, stopping the course of the river of the same name, which, being already swollen greatly, submerged the village and drowned nearly all the inhabitants. A number of persons were killed, and the river began rising, but when the landslide occurred about fifty persons were buried alive.

He Wouldn't Pay the Ten Cents.

PITTSBURGH, September 18.—An important railroad decision was rendered today by Judge Ewing in the common pleas court. L. D. R. Reese was expelled from a train of the Pennsylvania railroad because he refused to pay ten cents extra for rush fare. The railway to be collected from the judge held that the ten cents extra was wrong and instructed the jury to return a verdict for $250.

MUSIC IN THE SCHOOLS.

The Teachers Receive Their First Instruction from Professor Bill.

There was an interesting and important meeting in the hall of the Girls High school yesterday afternoon.

All the teachers of all the schools in the city were invited, assembled for the purpose of receiving their first instruction in the Mason system of music teaching, which will be included in the course of study of the public schools.

Some time ago a board of education determined to incorporate a thorough system of musical instruction in all the schools, from the first grade up. The Mason system, a national music course, was adopted. Gunn & Co., of Boston, are the publishers of the first books, etc.

The teachers of the first grade were given their first lesson by Professor Bill, who is the instructor in the Mason system of music teaching.

Professor Bill is here at the expense of his house, and will be given a month's vacation from his regular duties. He arrived last Sunday, and after a conference with Major Slaton on Monday, spent the day in making arrangements for the teachers' first preliminary instructions.

Yesterday was the first regular lesson. Others will be given to the teachers of the first grade, and the teachers of the other grades will receive their first lesson on Tuesday.

It is the plan of the board to elect a superintendent of music, who will have all the schools under his charge. The teachers of the different grades will teach the music just the same as any other study, and the system is such that it is impossible for the teacher to be a musician. The lessons are graded, the teachers of the first three grades instructing in the elementary sounds, and the others, of course, using the more advanced lessons.

It is probable that the superintendent of music will be elected by the board before Professor Bill leaves, so that in case he is not already conversant with the Mason system he may take hold where Professor Bill leaves off.

"I have inaugurated this system in a great many schools in the north and west," said Professor Bill yesterday, "and it has proven very successful wherever introduced. I am highly pleased at the interest of the teachers and the enthusiasm with which the teachers take hold of the thing is sure to make it popular. Atlanta has good reason to be proud of her school system."

"I don't believe there is a city anywhere of the same size that is better equipped for the education of its people. I have traveled about among the schools all over the country, and was very agreeably surprised indeed at the perfection and thoroughness of the system here. Other cities in the south are contemplating a music course, and when I am through here I shall hold conferences with the boards of education of those cities."

Mr. John Clark Smith caught the audience, when he began:

"We are all democrats, and are here in response to the call, and the object of that call must be sustained or refuted. The call was issued to denounce an outrage. Where and by whom was that outrage committed?"

"We must make the charge?"

"THE CONSTITUTION."

"Who must sustain it?"

"THE CONSTITUTION reporter."

"The CONSTITUTION reporter, and now let 'em furnish the evidence. They can't sustain it."

"First, convince us who did the work, and then we'll see what they can do."

"Now, Mr. Douglas says that if Grady were here we wouldn't talk about him. That ain't true. I'd just as live talk about him as to talk about Pledger."

Mr. Smith continued in the same strain for some time, and advocated the Arnold resolution. He asserted that THE CONSTITUTION had made a mistake, and that the meeting should say so.

The strikers were then upon motion voted down, and the resolution of Mr. Arnold was adopted.

After the meeting, Mr. Hill, Mr. Colville and Mr. Douglas were seen to say that the meeting was not of the Young Men's Democratic league, but was a stocked meeting.

AT THE FAIR.

The Zonaves Have Another Successful

Evening.

The Zonave fair scored another success last night.

A splendid crowd was on hand, and the receipts were quite large. Among the visitors were a number of Confederate veterans, who were accorded every courtesy by the fair Zonaves.

The drill by the Zonaves was one of the prettiest that has ever been seen in Atlanta, and it was an event in the history of the fair. The boys did themselves proud, and they equipped all their former brilliant successes, and were loudly applauded by the admiring crowd.

The young ladies contesting for prizes are all receiving a generous support, and their efforts are adding not a little to the treasury of the company.

The first serious contest is now proving a little game. Last night the tin box kept up a continuous jangle, as the quarters and halves were rung out to the several slots underneath the names of the four seasons.

Several lectures.

Dr. Lee, Dr. Barrett and Dr. Barnett will

All Deliver a Series.

Three of the most prominent preachers of Atlanta have visited Europe and eastern countries, and all of them will lecture during the coming season.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Lee, pastor of Trinity church, has just returned from a tour of England, and will lecture in about two weeks on "The Workshop of the World," giving a description of Birmingham, England, and life in that busy city.

Rev. Dr. Barrett, of St. Luke's, has already delivered a most entertaining lecture on "The Land of the Midnight Sun." The lecture drew a large crowd, and was listened to with great satisfaction. His next lecture will be delivered on Friday night, and the subject will be "Russia."

Rev. Dr. Barnett, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, commences a series of lectures next Sunday night. The subject is "Palestine," and the series will be continued for several weeks. Later on he will probably deliver a course of lectures on European travel on evenings during the week.

A LITERARY CATCH.

A Negro Arrested With a Number of Valuable Books.

Yesterday evening Detective Bedford

and Officer Reeves arrested a negro named Robert Lee Sapington.

He had a bagful of books and a valise full of clothing, and he looked so suspicious that he was arrested.

An investigation of the gunny sack that he carried, showed that he was a man of a literary turn of mind.

In the sack were some handsomely bound books, and among others there were a copy of "Don Quixote," "Avery's History of Georgia," "Echoes From The Highland Hills,"

"Gay's History of Great Britain," "The Circuit

Rider," a copy of a church discipline, "The Bible and The Sunday School," "The Destiny of Man,"

"The Confessions of John Bunyan," and a number of others belonging to Mary Lindsey, Dr. A. H. Lindsey and Mrs. E. Lindsey.

AN ALLEGED DEFRAUDER CAUGHT.

WHO WILL GET IT.

A Popular Grocer on Peachtree Street Offers $25.00 For the Best Loaf of Bread Made of his Flour.

Mr. J. J. Duffy, one of the most popular retail grocers in the country, comes to the front this morning and offers $25 for the best loaf of bread made out of Duffy's Superlative flour, and exhibited at the coming Piedmont exposition. This is a liberal offer, and will, no doubt, stimulate a great many people in the culinary line. The flour that Mr. Duffy has been selling—Duffy's Superlative—is said by those who have tried it, to be the very best. This being the case, Mr. Duffy, in making this offer to the ladies of Atlanta, will doubtless secure a large patronage for his flour. It is to be noted that this loaf of bread is to be made only from Duffy's Superlative, and no other flour will be brought into competition. Mr. Duffy is not afraid to compete with other grocers, but feeling that his flour is the best of all, offers $25 as a prize to the one making the finest loaf of bread out of it.

It might be added in this connection that Mr. Duffy has been styled one of the leading retail grocers of Georgia. He keeps everything that is usually kept in a grocery store, and sells his goods at a reasonable profit. Being located on one of the finest streets in the city, Peachtree, he has a fine trade among the best class of people.

Now young ladies and old ladies, all who cook and all who eat, remember that Mr. Duffy offers the handsome sum of $25 for the best loaf of bread made out of Duffy's Superlative flour, exhibited at the exposition company. The company will appoint judges to decide the matter.

An Interesting Thought!

200,000.
200,000 Organs.
200,000 Estey Organs.
200,000 Estey Organs have been manufactured. Think of it. Try and realize what it means. It is one organ finished every week since Noah built the ark.

Do you suppose it would be possible, with a sufficient number of men, to build a fine Reed Organ all complete in seven hours? No doubt it would, but it would certainly require a large force of skilled men to do it. Now, if the Estey Organ company had taken so long a time as seven hours they would have had to begin before Columbus discovered America in order to complete 200,000 organs in 1888. They have actually been building their famous Reed Organs forty years, averaging about one organ in thirty-five minutes. And not building them only. They have sold them.

No other organ can show such sales. What does it prove? Simply that the ESTEY Organ is the favorite. That it is the best value for the money invested, that it has been the choice with the majority of persons who have purchased organs.

You can't make any mistake in choosing an ESTEY for the great majority is with you. Go to the ESTEY Organ Co.'s ware-rooms, corner Marietta and Broad streets, Atlanta, Ga., and you can be suited in price and terms. sep 15-17

"TO THY SELF BE TRUE."

Then Canst no Man Say Thou Has Been False to Any One!—A Paraphrase Question Involved in This Article that All of Atlanta's Best Citizens Should be Cognizant of.

There has been a great deal said and written recently about flour. Gentle reader do not lose sight of the old saying, "The proof of the pudding is in the eating." Now, we are representative merchants, and reliable. We have no fear of contradiction, or that our statement can be refuted or contradicted by facts, that Hort & Thorn's Royal Patent Flour is the purest, best, and most reliable for bread and pastry purposes in the city. We are not afraid of a test, a trial test, a competitive test, any kind of test, at home or in the exposition, or anywhere.

Now, for your own satisfaction, buy five pounds of any of the said test flour in the city, bake them side by side: whichever of the flours baked yield the best, sweetest, lightest loaf of bread, so it belongs to the test of best—but our best, but best in the highest sense. Try it my friend—try it and like the competitive display of "The Loaf of Bread" at the last exposition, in which, without our knowledge, a lady baked with our Royal and won the handsome $100 prize offered by Walter Wood, for the best loaf of bread in the face of the fact that every man in Atlanta was represented by an expert in the culinary line, Hort & Thorn's Royal Patent Flour was the best, won the prize, and can do it again; so do not be misled but try for yourselves. If your legal is not what it is represented, we will refund your money.

Our fresh, white and crisp Saratoga chips have arrived. Our Boston Butter biscuits have arrived—best for oysters. Our 6 and 7 pound Dove Hams have also arrived, as well as some unseasoned Branksford Bacon. We have also that wonderful Elastic Starch. Have you ever examined its qualities, merits, etc? Our Pure Vermont Maple Syrup has also come at last. It is the finest of maple. Come and see it. We have a bargain in Higgins soap. Our new Kneppert and Scotchdale Cheese has again arrived. My friend, if you desire something strictly first-class in groceries, you are now put upon notice where to get it. Our goods are absolutely fresh. Our ice cream still land. We have just received from growers of cracked Wheat, Rolled Oats, Avena, Old Meal and all cereals. On the 15th, we fire from the top of Kennesaw mountain the grand aerial pyrotechnical display, given complimentary by Mr. Joseph M. Brown, to the actors, actresses and ticket buyers of the United States, here in convention on the day. We will give you a list of its kind! No idea! Hort & Thorn, sep 15-17

The above orders, received today, speak clearly and forcibly for Postel's flour. The demand has steadily increased, as lovers of good eating put out the virtues of Postel's unmatched and unmatchable flour.

"You can fool ALL the People SOME of the time, and SOME of the People ALL the time, but you can't fool ALL the People ALL the TIME."

There's a good deal of "solid horse sense" in the above phraseology peculiarly applicable to the clothing business when show windows and newspapers overflow with announcements

LINE THIS: AND THIS: THIS SUIT $10.00. WORTH $20. REDEEMED FROM $25.00. NOW $11.99.

And we find a refreshing originality in a recent advertisement which offers:

This Suit $20---Worth $20

There are two many in the clothing business who believe the American people like to be humbugged.

We hope you don't take stock in this humbugging theory.

There is only one sure foundation for success and that is: Actual Merit in Merchandise, Good Clothing, Substantial Evidence, Thorough Workmanship, Durable Trimmings, Style and Fit, which naturally calls to mind the stock of
